DAN

Dan came to join our household in mid-January 2005. William has A severe form of epilepsy which impacts him both physically and mentally. Dan has become a very special companion for William. He cannot comprehend that his dog's name is Dan and constantly refers to him as "Dam", but more commonly as "My Dam".

Dan provides William with consistently responsible "jobs" to do. William still forgets which way is the correct way to stroke a dog, but his loving Dan laps up all the attention until someone reminds him of the right way. He is very proud of his dog when we are out and about and loves showing his friend to people from the Kenilworth community. William is very possessive of his mate when travelling in the car and insists his sisters do not touch Dan so William has all the cuddles.

Dan is loved by all our family members and thoroughly enjoys his life on our farm where he has run of the place. He is the focal point of William's life and has brought about a special calming influence.

We are very grateful to ASDOGD(NQ) for their tremendous input into the training of Dan and their ongoing support.
